i PROFILE

Throughout a diverse professional background, I have learned well what it means to:

- Have patience in problem-solving.
- Be linguistically precise.
- Be self-reliant.
- Work effectively with a team.

I have helped several companies and teams refactor their thinking and create new processes to improve efficiency and consistency. Now, I am seeking the opportunity to do the same with yours.

TECHNICAL SKILLS

- Python (Django with SQLite, Flask with MySQL)
- C# (.NET Core with MySQL, Entity)
- MEAN (JavaScript, TypeScript, Angular, Node, Express, MongoDB)
- Web Application Fundamentals (HTML, CSS, JavaScript, JQuery, AJAX, Bootstrap, API Calls, etc.)
- Git (Very comfortable interacting with local and remote repositories, including squashing, rebasing, and handling merge conflicts)
- AWS (Deployment)

WORK EXPERIENCE

Canotic Inc, 2019, Software Development Intern

- Utilizing Python and my background in statistics.

Infinterest & fRent, 2018-2019, Freelance Web Developer

- Integrated .NET back-end with Angular 7 front-end.
- Designed Infinterest database using MySQL.
- Designed and built out responsive prototype website.

ICSD, 2016-2018, High School Math Teacher

- Gained an incredibly deep understanding of logarithmic, quadratic, and exponential functions commonly referred to when talking about space/time complexity.
- Became well-versed in having to articulate my thoughts in a variety of ways.

Wells Fargo, 2014-2016, Personal Banker

- Promoted to Banker from Teller after just 6 months.
- Taught me to be precise and pay close attention to detail as I examined countless legal documents.

Sub Zero, 2012-2014, Area Manager

- Worked my way up through 3 promotions to become Area Manager from Entry Level Crew Member.
- Established new procedures that provided a more consistent product for the customer and cut costs for the business.

GOALS

- To pursue an online Master's Degree program in Computer Science through Georgia Tech. I meet the current qualifications for this program and plan to begin next fall. This will be done solely on my own time.
- To work in a position in which I get to exercise my mind, using resources and logic to solve problems.
- To be a part of a team where I can contribute while also having the opportunity to learn from my colleagues and their strengths.
